

Quadratic Equations With Complex Solutions Section 2-8 : Applications of Quadratic Equations. In this section we're going to go back and revisit some of the applications that we saw in the Linear Applications section and see some examples that will require us to solve a quadratic equation to get the answer. Algebra - Applications of Quadratic Equations In this section we will summarize the topics from the last two sections. We will give a procedure for determining which method to use in solving quadratic equations and we will define the discriminant which will allow us to quickly determine what kind of solutions we will get from solving a quadratic equation. Algebra - Quadratic Equations : A Summary This page will try to solve a quadratic equation by factoring it first. How does this work? A map is a formula for computing a value of a variable based on its own previous value or values; a quadratic map is one that involves the previous value raised to the powers one and two; and a complex map is one in which the variable and the parameters are complex numbers. Periodic points of complex quadratic mappings - Wikipedia In general, an algebraic equation or polynomial equation is an equation of the form  $P(x) = Q(x)$ , or  $P(x) - Q(x) = 0$  where P and Q are polynomials with coefficients in some field (real numbers, complex numbers, etc.), which is often the field of the rational numbers.
